All Children Count in Census 2020!
About NALEO Educational Fund

- NALEO Educational Fund is the nation’s leading 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that facilitates full Latino participation in the American political process, from citizenship to public service.

- NALEO Educational Fund leads the iHazme Contar! campaign that promotes the full count of all Latino children in Census 2020.
What is the Census?

- The Census is a count of the total U.S. population as required by the U.S. Constitution. Every ten years a questionnaire is distributed to every physical mailing address. Every person living in the United States needs to be counted. The next Census will take place starting in March 2020 (except in remote areas of Alaska, where enumeration starts in January 2020).

- The census is conducted in various ways. Most people will receive a notice in the mail asking them to complete the Census questionnaire online, by mail, or by telephone.

- It is important to be counted. You must complete the Census form online, by phone, or by mail before April 30, 2020 to reduce the chance of an enumerator visit.

- The Census Bureau securely collects the information submitted and the data of entire communities are compiled and used for formulas that determine funding for key programs and political representation in government.
Census is Important for Representation

- Data from the Census are the cornerstone of our democracy.

- By determining the distribution of seats in the U.S. House of Representatives, accurate Census data help ensure FAIR REPRESENTATION.
Census data are also used for REDISTRICTING: How electoral district lines are drawn at all levels of government.
Census is Important for Program Funding

Census data are also used for:

• FUNDING IN OUR COMMUNITY. Federal funding supports programs that are crucial to the well-being of all families, including health, transportation, education and housing.

• Four federal assistance programs—Head Start; the Special Supplemental Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC); the Child Care and Development Block Grant; and the Maternal and Child Health Services Block Grant—distribute $20 billion annually to states and localities based, at least in part, on Census counts of the population under age 5.
Why you need to fill out the Census form

1. Responding to the census is required by federal law.

2. Your response generates funds and services for your community.

Important census facts to remember:

• Never lie on a federal form
• Include everyone living in your household, including children ages 0-5
• Your information is safe, confidential, and will not be shared with other federal, city or state agencies

Many Young Children were NOT Counted in the 2010 Census

• The Census consistently undercounts children under 5 at a much higher rate than any other age group.

• The 2010 Census failed to count almost one million children ages 0-4.

• Approximately 400,000 young Latino children ages 0-4 were not counted by the 2010 Census.

• Five states—California, Texas, Florida, Arizona, and New York—accounted for 72 percent of the national net undercount of young Latinos.

• The undercount of children means that these states did not receive the representation and federal resources they need to serve all the children and families living there.
Undercount of Very Young Latino Children (Age 0-4)

- California: 113,000
- Texas: 75,000
- Florida: 44,000
- Arizona: 32,000
- New York: 21,000
- Georgia: 21,000
- United States Total: 390,000

Every household will have the option of responding online, by mail, or by phone. Nearly every household will receive an invitation to participate in the 2020 Census from either a postal worker or a census worker. 95% of households will receive their census invitation in the mail.

Almost 5% of households will receive their census invitation when a census taker drops it off. In these areas, the majority of households may not receive mail at their home’s physical location (like households that use PO boxes or areas recently affected by natural disasters). Less than 1% of households will be counted in person by a census taker, instead of being invited to respond on their own. We do this in very remote areas like parts of northern Maine, remote Alaska, and in select American Indian areas that ask to be counted in person.

How the 2020 Census will invite everyone to respond

What to Expect in the Mail

When it’s time to respond, most households will receive an invitation in the mail.

Every household will have the option of responding online, by mail, or by phone.

Depending on how likely your area is to respond online, you’ll receive either an invitation encouraging you to respond online or an invitation along with a paper questionnaire.

Letter Invitation

- Most areas of the country are likely to respond online, so most households will receive a letter asking you to go online to complete the census questionnaire.

- We plan on working with the U.S. Postal Service to stagger the delivery of these invitations over several days. This way we can spread out the number of users responding online, and we’ll be able to serve you better if you need help over the phone.

Letter Invitation and Paper Questionnaire

- Areas that are less likely to respond online will receive a paper questionnaire along with their invitation. The invitation will also include information about how to respond online or by phone.
